Annual Notice Regarding Regulation BI and Form CRS

The SEC adopted Regulation Best Interest for broker-dealers and Form CRS for both broker-dealers and investment advisers. Our Form CRS summarizes our advisory services, fees, conflicts, and standard of conduct as an SEC-registered investment adviser. Included in our annual update is Compass Capital Corporation's Customer Relationship Summary which answers and links to key questions a retail client may have working with a Registered Investment Advisor.

On June 30, 2020, Compass Capital Corporation ("CCC") filed its Form CRS with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Form CRS is designed to help inform our clients about the services and potential conflicts of interest associated with our investment advisory business. View a copy of CCC's Form CRS on our web site posting at www.compassfinancialservicesgroup.com and select the "Disclosures" tab for a more complete description of our Regulation BI and Form CRS, or contact us to request a written copy.

CCC is required to deliver a copy of this document to all open accounts invested with us.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?	Compass Capital Corp. provides investment supervisory services, also known as asset management services; furnishes investment advice through consultation and personal financial planning. Compass Capital Corp. is compensated primarily by advisory fees. In some cases, our professionals are licensed to offer insurance; where used, they may receive customary insurance commissions. The firm does not receive commissions for purchasing or selling stocks, ETFS, bonds, mutual funds, limited partnerships or other commissioned securities products. Investment advice is based on understanding specific client's objectives and goals. Compass Capital Corp. does not act as a custodian of client assets. The client always maintains asset control. Compass Capital Corp. places trades for clients under a limited power of attorney. Periodic reviews are communicated to provide the specific courses of action that need to be taken.	Conversation Starters. Given my financial situation, should I chose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?
What fees will I pay?	Most clients choose to have Compass Capital Corp. manage their assets to obtain ongoing investment advice. The quarterly Advisory Service Agreement fee may be a blended or flat rate % of investable assets. Fees are negotiable and may vary by client based on relationship size and complexity. The following is an illustrative fee table; your specific fee is stated in your Advisory Agreement. Illustrative Fee Table: Assets in account: Typical Annual Fee $0 - $1,000,000: 1.00-1.50% Greater than $1,000,000: Negotiable You will also pay other fees charged by third parties (e.g., custodians, brokers, fund companies, or platforms). Financial planning fees are predicated on known facts at the start of the engagement and at $175/hour.	Conversation Starters. Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs and how much will be invested for me?
What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of	When we act as your investment advisor, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. For example, Officers and employees of Compass Capital Corp. may, from time to time, buy or sell some of the same securities that it recommends to clients. These transactions are executed in full compliance with FINRA regulations on insider trading, Chinese walls, free riding, front running and withholding. As a matter of	Conversation Starters. Compass Capital Corp. as SEC-registered investment advisor under rule 204A-1 has adopted a Code of Ethics as of January 5, 2005 it is available at anytime for download from our website under "disclosures" at www.compassfinancialservicesgroup.com. The code of ethics sets forth the standard of business conduct required of all employees that at a minimum, reflects the adviser's fiduciary obligations and requires compliance with the federal securities laws.
How do your financial professionals make money?	Compass Capital Corp. bases its fees on a percentage of assets under management and/or hourly charges in which the financial professionals make money. Investment management fees are billed quarterly, in arrears, meaning that we bill you after the three month period has ended. Some retainer agreements may be priced on the complexity of work, especially when asset management is not the significant part of the relationship. Financial plan pricing is based on time spent according to the degree of complexity associated with client's situation. Our professionals may receive base salary and a discretionary bonus tied to firm performance and non-sales factors (e.g., client service, compliance). If an insurance product is used, a licensed professional may receive a commission from the carrier.
Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?	As of the date of this summary, we report no legal or disciplinary history for the firm or our financial professionals.
